Berkeley City College’s Science Department has launched a College Hour Science, Technology, Engineering and Math Careers series hosted by Dr. Jennifer Hiras. The presentations take place from 12:15 to 1 p.m. in Rm. 431 on alternating Tuesdays in March and April. March topics have included “Biofuels: Sustainable Energy from Natural Resources,” and “Bioremediation: Using Microbes to Treat Our Water.”

April topics will examine “Coding and Big Data: Tools for Solving Environmental Problems” (Tue., Apr. 7); and “Climate Change: Effects on Microbial Biodiversity and Society” (Tue., Apr. 21). The presentations are free and open to the public.

Funding for the series is provided by the Trade Adjustment Assistance Community College Training (TAACCCT) grant, a regional engineering, manufacturing and logistics economic and workforce initiative to preserve and expand the East Bay region’s manufacturing and logistics economies.

Dr. Hiras earned a doctorate in marine studies from the University of Delaware. She is a biologist and postdoctoral researcher in the Joint BioEnergy Institute and Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory (Emeryville, CA).

Berkeley City College, UC Berkeley, and the Peralta Colleges will launch Partnership for International Education (PIE), Noon to 1:30 p.m., Wed., Mar. 25, in the college’s Teaching/Learning Center, Rm. 341. BCC faculty are invited to stop by for some light refreshments and learn about new conference and lecture stipends. They also can meet BCC instructor Deolinda Adao and Thomas Torres-Gil, who are with the college’s Global Engagement Office (5th Fl., Rm. 511) and who work with Peralta’s Office of International Education. Both will be on hand to answer questions about PIE and the stipends available for BCC faculty. Want to know more? Contact Deolinda Adao at dadao@peralta.edu.

BCC librarian Heather Dodge will lead a poster session about Berkeley City College’s zine collection and “Zinster in Residence” Program at the Mar. 25-28 Association of College and Research Libraries (ACRL) conference in Portland, Ore. The program was launched last year by Dodge and Tom Moniz, BCC English instructor.

Nominations for Berkeley City College’s Classified Employee of the Year are due to Classified Senate Officers Roberto Gonzalez, President Catherine Nichols, Vice President, or to Jasmine Martinez, Secretary/Treasurer, by Tue., Mar. 31. The award honors full and part time BCC classified employees who have provided exemplary service.

Remind your students to apply for graduation

Remind your students to apply for graduation from Berkeley City College’s Class of 2015 before they go on spring break. They can check with their counselors to see if they are eligible, then apply for their Associate Degrees or Certificates through BCC’s Admissions and Records Office. The deadline to apply for graduation has been extended to Thursday, March 26.
