

Building the Success Network One Link at a Time

Presents

Benchmarking Student Success: Using Data and Inquiry to Drive Innovation and Change for Basic Skills Student Success

Learning In Networks for Knowledge Sharing

Join Us

The Center for Urban Education (CUE) at the University of Southern California is pleased to offer a day-long training specifically created for BSI Coordinators in the Bay Area Region. Participants will enhance their ability to use benchmarking for strategic planning, particularly to improve outcomes for students enrolled in basic skills courses.

Utilizing tools developed over a decade of intensive action research at 2-year, 4-year and systems of higher education, CUE is committed to partnering with colleges and universities to build new capacity to produce equity in student outcomes. Nationwide, over 40 colleges have used the CUE Equity Model to enhance equity on their campuses.

Free Registration (survey link)

Location: room 212

Friday, March 19, 2010

Agenda

8:30-9:00 Continental breakfast

9:00-1:00 pm Training

Cleavon Smith, Basic Skills Initiative Coordinator

clsmith@peralta.edu

Basic Skills Committee: <http://wpmu.eberkeley.org/bsi/>

Berkeley City College

<http://www.berkeleycitycollege.edu>

2050 Center Street, Berkeley, CA 94704

