

Political Campaign Volunteer and Internship Opportunity

Are you interested in politics and looking for a volunteer opportunity or internship to boost your resume and build your skillset? Do you want to get involved in a race that will shape the future of Berkeley and East Bay politics? Look no further!

Your Berkeley City Councilmember, Ben Bartlett, is looking for individuals who are curious about local politics and campaigns to help in his run for the California State Assembly. Ben Bartlett is an environmental lawyer and fifth-generation Berkeley native seeking office in District 15 for State Assembly. Ben's campaign focuses on solving the housing crisis in the East Bay, alleviating homelessness, and creating access to jobs, wealth, and a healthy environment for all.

We are seeking volunteers and/or interns to help the campaign in canvassing efforts, contacting constituents, staffing local events, getting out the vote, and more. By becoming a volunteer or intern, you will get hands-on experience and knowledge on how local campaigns operate, develop your skills, boost your resume, and open up new opportunities after graduation.

If you are interested, please contact the Campaign Manager, Lauren Casey at lauren@benbartlettca.com or 941-662-9569.
