Dear Berkeley City College Community,

Berkeley City College will be closed as of March 14, 2020 through March 21, 2020. While the campus will be closed, for those not on Spring Break, everyone is expected to work remotely from home so that instruction and student services can continue as best as possible. All employees (including student workers) will maintain their respective schedule and continue to be paid during this time.

We understand that there are roles and duties that cannot be performed remotely. Those individuals will need to work with their supervisor, for guidance and instruction.

To provide as much support for students as possible, here are the ways students can access student service areas remotely. The first link is an email address to connect with staff, as well as the online links that can be used for services:
